Lutavit® E

Lutavit® E 50 is a high-quality and stable nutritional supplement that effectively protects the body's tissues from oxidative damage. With a key role in regulating muscle metabolism and supporting pregnancy, this product contributes to the health and productivity of livestock and poultry. Its special formulation, using high-quality silica, ensures long-term stability and reliable performance. Lutavit® E 50 is easy to incorporate into premixes and base mixes and with at least %50 guaranteed vitamin E content throughout its shelf life, is an ideal choice for improving animal health and performance.
